In a local restaurant that just opened in 1930, an attractive college student disappears after a family argument. Fears of white slavery bring in Lt. Jared Lewis of the Brooklyn Heights precinct and an insurance investigator. The latest novella in the crime series traces the search through the streets of Brooklyn and along the seedy waterfront below without success. Was her handsome Spanish tutor involved? And can her two professors help solve the case and prevent a murder--or worse? The Brooklyn Heights Crime Series explores fictional crimes set in historical sites during the 1930s. This second novella by John B. Manbeck explores an international issue as it affects the local police force. To come will be the next release, Skeleton in the Attic.
